

Figure 3. Structural Setting of Park County. Park County straddles three major structural blocks. Laramide uplifts that expose cores of Precambrian crystalline bedrock bound a basin that preserves Cambrian through Paleocene sedimentary strata. The younger Rio Grande rift system cuts through the Sawatch uplift west of the county, forming the Upper Arkansas Valley in Chaffee and Lake Counties.

